1. Introduction to LinkedIn

1.1 History

- started out in the living room of co-founder Reid Hoffman in 2002
- launched 5 May 2003
- world's largest professional network 562+ million members in 200+ countries, over 9 million in Australia
- 4.5+ million active monthly users in Australia
<https://www.socialmedianews.com.au/social-media-statistics-australia-june-2018>
- mission to connect the world's professionals to make them more productive and successful
- LinkedIn is publicly held, diversified business model with revenues from member subscriptions, advertising sales and talent solutions
- acquired Pulse, SlideShare, Lynda, Connectifier, acquired by Microsoft in 2016
- started as a network, then publishing, next B2B platform
- <https://news.linkedin.com/news> <https://about.linkedin.com> <https://blog.linkedin.com>

1.2 Hangups

- No privacy – past history, need to have a digital footprint
- Don't know who to connect to – depends on purpose
- Too much time – do a cost benefit analysis
- Too costly – I use the free account
- Can't write – dot point keywords
- Scared of computers – need to show digital competency (not just literacy)
- Business rules – read or have your own social media guidelines
- Need help – ask a friend or expert

5. Content Strategies

5.1 Content stages

First and foremost, you need to complete your own LinkedIn Profile to the best of your ability.

Depending on how comfortable you are with creating and publishing your own content via LinkedIn, you are likely to be in one of three content stages:

- content involvement – Liking, Commenting and Sharing other people’s content
- curation – sourcing other people’s good content and sharing it
- creating – both Posts (newsfeed) and Articles (like your own blog) with unique content

Remember to keep your Engagement Ratio at a good level – ideally one share of your content and 12 engagements (Like, Comments or Shares of other people’s content – again, be strategic).

5.2 Evergreen Content

Articles can be Search Engine Optimised to appear in Google Search Results long after the original publication date and are best suited to ‘evergreen’ content – but don’t forget to incorporate a call to action at the end.

<https://www.linkedin.com/pulse/how-write-search-engine-optimised-article-linkedin-sue-ellson>

- Google search ‘tough love unemployed’ for an example

Note to self: Always keep a copy of your Article URLs and the Article Content as there is no guarantee that it will always be online. Do not use copyright images.

5.3 Dynamic Content

Posts that you write and that appear in the Newsfeed have the potential to go ‘viral.’ At present, this seems to happen if:

- The post receives early engagement (Likes, Comments, Shares)
- If you add an image before you add text
- If you upload a video and .srt file (transcript) directly into LinkedIn
- If you have written it in an engaging way – start with ‘Today’
- If you have ‘pinged’ other people in the Post – type @ and their name to notify them
- If you have included hashtags # (subjects)

- If you encourage people to engage appropriately
- If you personally respond to all Comments
- If you recycle the Post a week later (which is why you need to keep a copy of each Post's URL but also if you need to find and delete a profile that was sensitive)

Visit <https://www.linkedin.com/feed/update/urn:li:activity:6413272325709488128> to see 10500+ views in two weeks

Note to self: Always keep a copy of your Post URLs in case you want to recycle it or retrace what you have done in the past in your own Excel Spreadsheet. Always be nice in your Posts and encourage positive discourse. Consider sharing some of your Post URLs to others to encourage them to interact with your Post.

6. Digital Management Strategies

You need to be aware that what you publish on LinkedIn is automatically tied to your brand online.

Whilst you may be able to invite an assistant to monitor messages, provide appropriate responses to Comments or make decisions on who to accept or not to accept in your Network, ultimately, they cannot write your Profile for you (only you know your background – at worst, copying and pasting non-confidential information from a resume is better than blank boxes).

You can help people self-select whether or not they should reach out to you by writing your content for your purpose and deciding who can see your contact details.

If you wish to speak at international conferences or contribute to particular journals, connect with these people, follow their 'company' profiles on LinkedIn, connect with fellow professionals in the same area internationally.

If you wish to be viewed as a thought leader in your area of specialty, commit yourself to regular distribution of good quality content – once a month is adequate.

There is no need to reinvent the wheel – borrow ideas from other world specialists. Look at them anonymously, save their profile to PDF, print and borrow away!

You can schedule posts to be shared automatically from your own blog or website – I find it better to post individually to a social media platform in the 'format' that suits the platform audience – good quality content shared regularly is far better than average quality shared frequently.

Remember that if you optimize your LinkedIn Profile, it can often appear number one, page one of Google search results for your name, your keywords and for your Article titles – so it is worth getting it RIGHT for your purpose.
